Ladies' egg race—Mrs. Janie Rich, first; Mrs. Eva Currie, second. Boat race—L. Yochan, first; P. P. Hamilton, second. Driving contest—Joseph Sanborn, first; L. B. Lindsey, second. Swimming contest—E. S. Parks, second; no claimant for first prize.

Substantial prizes were awarded the winners of all the various contests, and over $10 worth of candy was given away in consolation prizes. The day was a brilliant success from all standpoints, and everything was carried out without a hitch, except for the rainstorm which occurred in the evening. This caused but very little inconvenience, however, for the crowd easily found shelter in the various structures on the grounds. Everybody made the best of the circumstances, too, and there was but very little complaining.

While the races and other contests attracted a large part of the crowd, the various attractions on the grounds also proved popular. Amusement taking advantage of the warm weather, took a dip in the lake, while almost every rowboat was in use throughout the afternoon, each one holding from two to six persons. And what fun the little ones in attendance found on the miniature railroad and the merry-go-round. The roller-coaster and the chutes also received their share of patronage. The greater part of the evening was spent at dancing and roller skating.

Big Feast a Feature. Of course the feast proved one of the big features of the outing, and everybody took a well-filled lunch basket along, which was brought back to the tables in the evening by the waiters. Dealers at the various soda water and ice cream booths reported it to be one of the busiest days which they had experienced this summer. All in all it was the largest labor demonstration which has ever been held in Utah, and while it was a holiday, and one which is held more precious than any other in the eyes of the laboring man, he went home last night completely tired out; in fact, perhaps more so than if he had done a hard day's work at his trade. Nevertheless, he went to bed happy over the success of the day to spend the night dreaming about the glorious festivities. It was a day which he will long remember.

TOLSTOI'S COMMENTS ON RUSSIAN ENCYCLOPEDIA

YASNAYA, Pollana, Sept. 7.—Count Leo Tolstoy, speaking of the encyclopaedia recently issued against him by the holy synod at St. Petersburg, in which an appeal is made to all believers not to participate in the celebration in honor of his eightieth birthday, says that the encyclopaedia displeases him only in the fact that it increases a naturally partly artificially stimulated sympathy with him. Count Tolstoy's health continues to improve, but he is still confined to his bed.

DR. SHORT SUDDENLY TAKES A NEW TACK

Condemns Seating of Smoot, but Finds Cause to Praise Some Mormon Polygamists.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 7.—After denouncing the wickedness of Utah, and Salt Lake City in particular, yesterday, the Rev. Francis Burgette Short of Salt Lake City, who is raising funds in defense of some of the Mormons today. Among the better class of the members of the Mormon church, he says, no better people are to be found. As an example of the good qualities which he said, are to be found among some of the Mormons, Dr. Short said: "Even old Joseph E. Smith, who, as everybody knows, has four wives and forty-three children, has been prominent in the liquor fights in Utah, and has urged his people to do everything in their power to help to close every saloon in the state. In my work as secretary to the executive committee of the Anti-Saloon league, I have been associated with as president of this body, Hon. W. H. King, a Mormon and a high member of the church, and outside of his religious beliefs, I have never met a better man."

ARMED MAN TRIES TO SEE PRESIDENT

Continued from Page One. secret service men, without alarming the president's family, called one of the government automobiles and carried Coughlin to the Oyster Bay town hall, where he was arrested before Justice of the Peace Franklin on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Justice Franklin committed Coughlin to the county jail at Mineola. Coughlin will be extradited to St. Louis, Mo. According to the secret service men, Coughlin told them that he had been confined for three years in an asylum for the insane, and that he had had returned from a hospital back only a short time before Coughlin appeared at Sagamore Hill. He did not witness the arrest of the crank, and had not been informed of the occurrence this evening.

Wild Rumor Started.

The news that an armed crank had attempted to reach the president at Sagamore Hill started a rumor that a shot had been fired at the president while he was out horseback riding last Saturday. It was said that the president was riding along the Cove road, near the house of his cousin, W. E. Miller, when he was fired upon by some one concealed in a clump of bushes at the road side.

HORRIBLE FATE BEFALLS WOMAN

Continued from Page One. ed in carrying the woman into the drug store how to tie bandages about her limbs to stop the flow of blood. Miss Anderson remained with the unfortunate woman until Dr. J. S. Richards and Ralph Richards arrived. They attended the severed limbs as best they could, and a few minutes later the woman was rushed in the Holy Cross hospital ambulance to the latter-day Saints' hospital where she was operated upon immediately. As soon as the accident occurred the police were notified and the patrol wagon was hurried to the scene, but it was entirely out of the question to remove the injured woman on a stretcher in that open conveyance in a downpour of rain. If the police had been equipped with an emergency ambulance the woman would have been in the hospital and on the operating table, with doctors working to save her life, in less time than it took to get doctors to her aid.

Policeman Rhodes was present, and aided the doctors in placing the woman in the ambulance. She was accompanied to the hospital by Mr. Taylor, while the doctors were taken in a carriage.

Miss Littlefair was taken directly to the operating room at the hospital, and the doctors worked over her for several hours.

Miss Littlefair was conscious until put under the anaesthetic at the hospital.

DEMOCRATS OF COLORADO FACE TROUBLOUS TIMES

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 7.—For the third time within two years on the eve of the assembling of a Democratic convention, the Colorado democracy is confronted with two contesting delegations representing the city and country of Denver. For the third time, with practically the same leaders and followers, the two delegations from Denver are making united efforts to secure recognition at the hands of the outside counties. Troubles in Denver have afforded many a contented county and there are tonight contests pending from El Paso, Las Animas and Conejos counties. Notwithstanding the apparent bitterness of the warring Denver factions, there will be a determined effort on the part of Mayor Speer and of former Senator Patterson, recognized leaders of the two factions, to reach a compromise before the convention meets at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Tonight a conference was held, continuing until late into the night, both sides expressing themselves as willing to grant concessions in order to have a united party back of the national and state tickets.

club of Salt Lake City, and to look after their welfare and prosperity. A committee on propaganda, whose duty shall be educational, will supply pamphlets and other literature as to the conditions in Utah, provide for lectures and do such other things as may be expedient in informing the people of Utah and the nation as to the true status of conditions in Utah.

The club will elect officers at this meeting and consider the matter of reorganization along the above lines. There will be no set speeches and those who have any suggestion for the betterment and more effective work of the club will be given an opportunity to be heard.

This is the way an unknown newspaper man puts it: "The politician is my shepherd. I shall not want for anything in this campaign. He leadeth me into the saloon for my vote's sake. He fillets my pockets with good cigars; my cup of beer runneth over. He ingenuously into my family, even to the fourth generation. Yet, though I walk through the mud and rain to vote for him, and shout myself hoarse when he is elected, straightway he forgetteth and although I meet him at his own house, he knoweth me not. Surely the wool has been pulled over my eyes all of the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the house of a chump forever."

Morgan county church Republicans will hold a convention in Morgan City on September 10 to elect six delegates to the state convention and the Third senatorial district convention.

The church Democrats of Sanpete county will, at a convention to be held at Mantoloking, September 17, select delegates to the state convention and also to the Seventh district judicial convention.

Church Republicans of Washington county, on September 9, choose nine delegates to the state convention and nine delegates to the Fifth district judicial convention.

S. L. Raddon of the Park City Record has been mentioned as state senator from the Fifth senatorial district. Here is what his paper says about the matter:

The Coalville Times, our Summit county contemporary, some two weeks ago urged the candidacy of this fall of S. L. Raddon of the Record for the state senatorship. Mr. Raddon, who is enjoying a month's visit in Canada and the east, writes us, however, that he declines their interest in him politically, but stating that he would not care to aspire politically this fall. The Record is of the opinion that newspaper fraternity of the state should have and is entitled to some recognition at the hands of the voters and that Mr. Raddon should be the proper man to represent Summit county in the state senate, and that he should be elected to the matter when he gets home.

"Rock M. Pope was tendered an ovation by his friends in Theodore, Indian canyon, on his way to the river country, where his homestead is, says the Utah Chief, "upon his return last Sunday from Myron, where he was nominated for the state representative in the state legislature by the Myron Republican convention. Upon no one in this section could the honor and responsibility of this highest office in Washington be more fittingly bestowed. All the thirty-five years of Mr. Pope's life have been passed in his native state, Utah. For a number of years he lived at Veranda, but since his marriage, his vacation he has resided on his homestead near Theodore. Following an open-air life, mining and stock raising, he has become as well acquainted with the needs of the reservation, but all of Wasatch county, as any living man. In addition, Mr. Pope's natural endowments of a bright mind, coupled with the ability to express his thoughts clearly and a disposition toward the world that has made his every acquaintance a fast friend, will make him not only a capable and efficient representative, obtaining for the county all that is due, but put him among the leaders of the legislature."

"Walter Calderwood, ex-county clerk of Summit county, and now out for the Republican nomination for state auditor, was in town Thursday," says the Park City Record, "after having been in attendance at the convention in Coalville. The gentleman has not much to say, but he is working hard, and wants to see what he can do for himself there. The Record cannot recommend Mr. Calderwood too highly and hopes that he may be entirely successful."

WHAT POLITICIANS IN NEVADA SAY

parties consider this with the seriousness that it deserves the people of the state will receive direct benefits. On the state books of Nevada are listed which may be classed as relics of pioneer days. There are other laws which are absolutely absurd, as any reputable lawyer in the state will declare, and the bar of the state is almost a unit for a revision. This is not a party matter, but one which should engage the attention of every person interested in the welfare of Nevada. Politics should not interfere with the carrying out of the plan. Anything that makes for progress in the state deserves the support of all.

Las Vegas will send C. C. Brown, H. M. Lillis, E. W. Griffith, and a time matron, now turned actress, busily poking into the dirty corners of the stone steps. I asked if he had planted those also, and learned that every he picked up the oats that were dropped by the horses feeding from their buckets and planted them. Then when they came up he transplanted them into a shoe box, which he proudly pointed to me on the sill of an attic window.

"Theresa," he informed me, "got real garden off the purse, but I asked her to plant one. I looked around me, and verily Tony's box and things of green blades were the only green things my eyes could light upon in the direction."

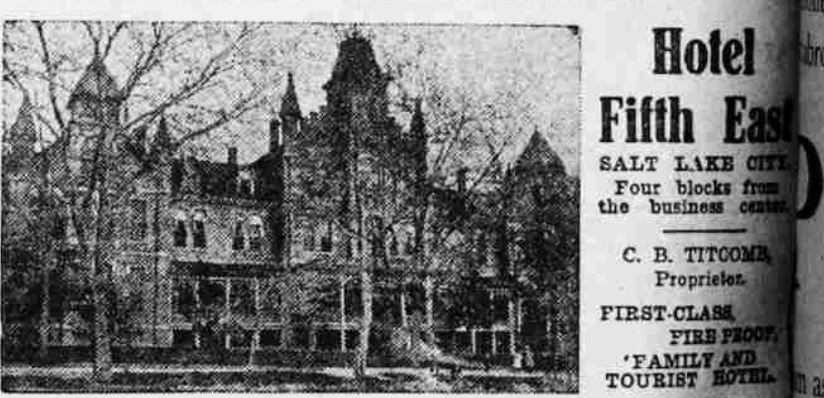

A similar story of appreciation is told by a settlement worker who was passing her way down Allen street, the dingiest of all Eastside streets, the day and most forbidding, when she noticed a little girl tracing a finger around two grass blades at the foot of an elevated station pillar.

"You have a flower, haven't you?" she vouchsafed interestingly. "Tain't no flower, teacher," the indignant protest, "here stand park."—The Craftsman.
